

Growing Together Through Small Groups

One of our favorite ways to fulfill our mission of equipping women to connect more deeply with God and one another is through small groups. During the first half of the year, we organized virtual small groups to study the book Called to Listen in Portuguese. We are delighted by the participation of women from across Brazil who feel encouraged to start small groups in their own congregations.

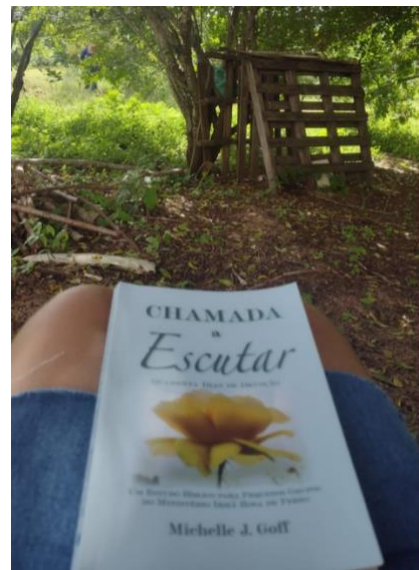

Rejoice with us while reading these testimonies:

"For me, this was THE experience of 2026! Participating in these gatherings was perfect! I am already organizing with other women to form both an online group and an in-person group here in my city."

"I had started reading the book more than once but hadn't followed through. The entire book was incredible. Connecting with the other women really helped me understand that the answers went much deeper than I had imagined."

"I learned so much from everyone in my group. Realizing that an older woman shared some of the same desires I have was very significant for me. The group was a safe space."

"The book helped me have conversations about spirituality outside of our scheduled meeting times."

At the end of the month, we will begin our second round of virtual small groups using Committed to Listen. Please pray for the women who will participate, that they will continue growing in their relationship with God and with one another. We also pray these groups will inspire more women to begin small groups in their homes and congregations, multiplying opportunities for discipleship throughout Brazil.

To learn more about our small group resources, visit our website or email us at info@ironrosesister.com. We would be happy to answer your questions and help you get started!